Rally, Whigs! Rally!! MASS MEFTING OF THE WHIGS OF WASH-

A MASS MEETING of the Whigs of Washington will be held on THIS EVENING, the 29th instant, at 8 o'clock, at the WHIG POLE on the corner of Seventh street and Massachusetts avenue. It is expected that the meeting will be addressed by Mr. Dyron, of Virginia, Mr. Hanny Vinta Davis, of Baltimore, and several other distinguished speakers. Speakers.

The several Ward Clubs are respectfully invited to be present.

By order of the Northern Liberties Scott Club:

N. D. LARNER, Secretary.

Whig Rally.

Northern Liberties this evening.

By order : R. H. LASKEY, Secretary. Scott will be Elected in November!

A cotemporary grounds his opinion to this effect upon the energy of the Whigs themselves, their increasing union, and the changes that are daily taking place in every part of the country. The union of the Whig party upon their nominee is becoming more firm every day. "Even those few that were at first dissatisfied with the nomination, or desired the success of some other candate, are daily giving in their adhesion to Scott, and declaring that no other man could command such a vote from the Whig party. The defections from the ranks of the enemy, reported to us from the West, are continually increasing. We do not take up a Western Whig paper but what contains such accounts. The Scott vote will be much larger everywhere at the West than the mere Whig vote. It is on these defections we reckon Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin as States very likely to go for Scott, and Ohio and Pennsylvania as certain. Then look at our opponents. They are fighting about temperance in Maine, about coalition in Massachusetts, and about barnburnerism, canslism and several other obscure and not well understood causes of quarrel, in New York. That latter State is a dead loss to locofocoism from the feuds existing in the party, while the results of the harmonious convention of the Whigs show that they will all pull together this November. There is, then, every reason to take courage at the prospect. Nothing now but a failure in systematic energy and in organization on our part can defeat us.'

The fact that the Whig party has never yet conceived or carried any great measure of general advantage to the country, is no less histori-cal than the fact that it has opposed every great measure demanded by the interests of the people or the emergencies of the times .- Union.

No sane and candid man will deny that the characteristics of the two parties are and ever have been that the Whig party has projected and negatives, without sufficient unanimity in itself to lay it on the table was negatived-year 75, to design or execute any great schemes, with no bends of cohesion or principle except in objecting to what the Whigs propose. When and where did Mr. Botts ever make such a declaration? Who can tell us? If he ever did, be has since exercised the right of an honest man, and changed his opinion.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS' OPINION OF GEN. SCOTT. -In his speech at the great Niagara Convention. Gov. Hunt, said "he should never forget the just eulogium pronounced upon the character of Gen. the House of Representatives. Mr. Adams defifty years in the public service, he had never met a man of more exalted virtues, at the same time asserting that he possessed higher claims upon his country as a pacificator than as a warrior : that the lustre of his services in preserving the peace of his country surpassed the brilliancy o his military achievements."

For Rockville To-Morrow !

We are requested to give notice that the Whigs of Washington who purpose attending the Mass Meeting at Rockville, will meet to-morrow morning, at 74 o'clock, at the Club Room. The means of conveyance will be ready at that hour. An early departure is desirable, that we may unite with our friends in Georgetown destined for the scene of action !

The Union publishes the letter of a man named Guthrie, who claims to be an old soldier, and who maintains that General Scott ought not to be made President, because he is so great a not to be allowed to run at large; he might creman that vanity itself should aspire to nothing ate mischief in a well-regulated community. more. Wise Mr. Guthrie! Sapient Union!

The Pennsylvanian says that Mr. Forney dees not participate in the editing of that paper.

UNCLE TOM "AGIN" JOEL PARKER .- The New York Observer contains certain revelations touching liberties which Harriet Beecher Stowe has taken with the name of the Rev. Joel Parker, of New York, in her "Cabin." The lady has made injurious charges, whereupon the reverend gentleman has commenced a libel suit of $20,000. So there is another row !

Ber We learn that Com. Charles W. Skinner has been appointed by the President Acting Secretary of the Navy in the absence of Mr. Kennedy.

The Irish and their Friends.

Our adversaries, the Locofoco party, are seeking to array the adopted citizens of the country against General Scott, by representing him as holding Native American doctrines, on account of a letter written many years ago, every material opinion of which he long since discovered to be founded in error and misapprehension, and at once manfully and patriotically recented. They forget that the same engine with which they hoped to destroy our illustrious hero-patriot. could be turned with overwhelming force upon

We will cite the acts of the Locofeco party in Congress, on an occasion when the holiest feelings of human nature solicited, implored, begged the hard-hearted Democratic majority to vote a sum of money to purchase food for the starving of famine-stricken old Ireland! The appeal was in vain. The plaint of the hungry, the wail of the starving, the moans of the dying, gasping in the agonies of dissolution for want of food, fell upon the ears of the Democratic majority, who refused to vote out of our abundance one single cent for the test question. The rejection of the motion, therefore, at that late hour of the session, killed the bill as effectually as though it had been defeated by a direct vote.

The test vote, given below, is a striking commentary upon the love the Democratic leaders entertain towards foreigners, especially the Irish, when their votes are in no particular request. Only eleven, out of almost one hundred, could be found who were willing to extend any relief to Ireland, in the hour of her utmost distress, her gloom and her destitution! Is further comment The members of the Washington Whig Club necessary to show the difference in disposition are requested to meet at the Club Room on this between the two great parties, so far as foreignevening, 29th instant, at 7 o'clock, in order to at- ers are concerned ?-to show who are the friends tend the Whig mass meeting to be held in the and who are neglectful or hostile? We think happy to meet my fellow-citizens of all parties, not. The acts of a party, like those of an individual, afford the only true index to the governing emotions, by which a safe judgment may be arrived at.

Let the Congressional record speak. We challenge investigation. The severer the scrutiny, the more glaring and criminal will the action of the flinty-hearted Democratic majority appear. Our opponents must recollect the " Irish Relief Bill," as it was called, offered by John J. Crittenden. We give the following account of its passage through the Senate of the United States, and defeat in the House, taken from the official records of Congress:

THE IRISH RELIEF BILL.

SENATE, Feb. 25, 1847. Mr. Crittenden (Whig) introduced a bill appropriating $500,000, to be expended in provisions under the direction of the President, and trans-loquence and force.

Bring him to Justice?

The New Orleans True Issue says that if any confidence could be placed in the Locofoco papers General Scott ought to be arrested. Some charge him with cowardice, some with being an old carbuncled drunkard, and, as if to cap the climax. some call him a thief. Such a man as this ought Gideon J. Pillow might afford to take the matter in hand. He was the only one of the implements of President Polk who would disgrace himself by having General Scott court martialed after he had made a long march and conquered a whole nation, and a city of a hundred thousand inhabitants, and something near thirty thousand national troops, when General Scott's entire army at the time did not amount to ten thousand brave Americans, with only seven thousand dollars in the military chest. We say that the man who could have him put under arrest then, is a fit person to make the affidavit for his arrest now. Housekeepers, lay in your wood and coal.

Gen. Scott at Circleville, Ohio.

As soon as the General had arrived at the hotel, he appeared upon a stand erected for the occasion, and was introduced to the people, amid the hearty cheers of those who had assembled, by Thomas C. Jones, esq., who made the following neat and spirited address:

Ladies and Gentlemen : I introduce to you Gen. Winfield Scott! [Enthusiastic cheering.] I will not speak to you of his fame or his deeds—the great story is written in your country's history, [cheers,] and in view of the spotless purity of his character, and of the motives which have ever influenced him in the service of his country, may I not add that the memory of those great deeds is written upon your hearts, my countrymen! [Cheers.] Something has been said about the [Cheers.] Something has been said about the pride and austerity of Gen. Scott—my friends come up and speak to him—look at him! If he ever best even upon the generous soil of old Pick-away, then the Almighty has fixed a false imoress upon the noblest work of His hands! [Tremendous cheering.] Gen. Scott! I hardly need say to you that you are WELCOME to the county of Pickaway! [Immense cheering.]
Gen. Scott then came forward and addressed he assembled multitude as follows:

Fellow Countrymen: I am at a loss for words o express the emotions which I feel on receiving such a welcome from the citizens of Pickaway county. I had frequently heard of the county of Pickaway, of the great fertility of its soil and gallantry of its people. [Enthusiastic cheering.] But I had no anticipation of finding a soil of such exceeding fertility, as I have observed in passing down your beautiful valley. Nor had I the most remote expectation of meeting such a cheering welcome from the fair countrywomen and gallant men of Pickaway, as you have been pleased this day to extend to an old soldier. [Cheers.] I shall not, my friends, speak to you upon politi-cal or party topics. In obedience to an act of Congress, Gen. Wool, Surgeon General Lawson, and myself, have been ordered to select a site in Kentucky, and near Cincinnati, for an Asylum or Military Hospital for wornout and infirm soldiers, both regulars and volunteers. I am now passing through your valley, bound to the Blue Lick, in Kentucky, upon that duty. And in thus Whigs and Democrats, native born and adopted citizens of this great and free republic, as brothers and countrymen. [Prolonged cheering.] For my success in the services that it has been my d fortune to render to my country, and to which my kind and eloquent friend has referred, I am indebted, my friends, to the gallantry and courage of my countrymen, [cheers,] of those who fought with me, both of native and of foreign birth. [Immense cheering.] Germans, Irishmen, and other foreigners, have fought side by side with us upon many a battle-field, and from the beginning to the end of the battle, they have shown themselves to be as brave, and as strongly have the native born. [Enthusiastic cheers.] My countrymen, if in the life of a soldier there are privations and hardships, the best recompense whatever sufferings and privations I have endured in the public service for a period of more than forty years, I am amply rewarned for them all by such cheers and gratulations as greet my ears this day. [Cheers.] In my early youth, I set out in life with an ardent desire, that I might do something that should contribute to the welfare and glory of my country-some service for the public good—the memory of which should not die with me—and may I not say that the kind and affectionate greetings, with which you have this day received me, are evidences that I have to a small extent, succeeded in this my early and ardent desire. [Enthusiastic and cheers. ] My friends, I sincerely thank you for United States sloop-of-war Bainbridge was at this warm, generous, and enthusiastic manifestation of your kindness and regard for me, and without reference to the future-to any other manifestation of your partiality-your greetings and your cheers are received as an ample recom pense for all the hardships endured by an old

Mr. Morgan, of St. Mary's county, Md., was called for, and addressed the Folders, while at work, in a very handsome and cheering manner, assuring all present that the Maryland line could always be victorious with a leader such as Gen. Валтімови, Sept. 28-10 р. ш.

I have just returned from a grand Whig mass neeting of the 4th Ward. It was held in the open street. The several arrangements were very complete. An immense throng was in attendance. It was emphatically one of the old kind of gatherings. There were probably six thousand persons present. I have never seen a more decided manifestation of enthusiasm. The spirit is unquestionably up and rising every hour. The Whigs of Baltimore are aroused. He who runs may read this. I am now fully convinced, so is every one, that Gen. Scott is the man for the times. There is something in his life and history, and even in the simple mention of his name, that kindles up a fire in the human heart not to be quenched. It is evident that the people are with him and for him. His history they know by heart, and have not now at this late day to tax their time and patience with learning it as the advocates of Pierce are necessitated to do. They know it-every man and boy of themfrom their school days up to the present moment. It was studied in their early lessons, and fixed indellibly upon their memory. I have never felt so thoroughly confident of the election of Gen. Scott as I do now. The elements are at work to accomplish it, and nothing but death can cause his defeat. As well might Gen. Pierce, mounted upon his celebrated Mexican charger, with drawn sword, attempt to subdue the thundering cataract of Niagara, and reverse its foaming torrent, as for the Democrats to attempt to avert the glorious victory awaiting Gen. Scott. The bone and sinew and muscle of the country are with him. It seems to me he will be borne to the high honors of his country as with the power of an avalanche! The meeting was organized by appointing W.

Chesnut, esq., president. Mayor Jerome made a few brief and eloquent remarks, in which he indignantly repelled slanders put forth against him by the Argus of this city. He was followed by our talented and accomplished townsman, S. Teakle Wallis, esq. This is the first speech Mr Wallis has made since 1844. It was a masterpiece of eloquence. I have never listened to a more entertaining and instructive address. He was followed by Mr. Merrick, H. Winter Davis, and others, all of whom acquitted themselves admirably. The canvasses of 1840, 1844 and 1848 were not fraught with so brilliant hopes as is this. Baltimore is coming up to her work most effectually, and in solid earnest. The old depot of the Baitimore and Ohio rail-oad, opposite the United States Hotel, was sold to-day to Mr. Bainbridge, of Louisville, Ky., for $80,000. It is to be connected with a Kentucky Tobacco Warehouse. This shows that capitalists are beginning to look out for business, in anticipation of the opening of the railroad to the Ohio.

A BOOK FOR THE TIMES.

HELPS to a life of Holiness and Usefulness, or Caughey's Revival Miscellanies. The demand for this book is almost unprecedented in the history of Methodist publications. Six thousand copies have been sold in about four months. The seventh thousand is now ready. Read these notices of its character: "These sermons are admirably fitted for producing effect immediate, powerful effect, upon the popular mind. Brief, hitting, bold, subjective; abounding in anecdote, illustration, patkos; never prosy; never haiting for a moment in confident persuasion that sinners are to be converted by the truth they press home. * * * We unlesitatingly recommend the circulation of this book."—Rec. Dr. Wightman, mend the circulati Ed. S. C. Advocate. "It is a good work, and all that have bought it say so. One * * * very good brother said, after reading the server

One * * * very good brother said, after reading the sermon on the 'Omnipotence of Faith,' that it gave him more of an insight of faith than anything he ever read or heard. A Bapilst minister purchased a copy, and was carried away with the spirit of the work."—Rev. Theodore Hill, of the Maine Conference. "I like Revival Miscellanies very much. It will do good in the church"—Rev. G. M. Carpenter, of Providence Con-

"I have read the book, and am not only delighted, by feel that I am a better man. All who have read it at greatly pleased."—Rev. T. Sullins, of the Holston Conference "This book has been a great blessing to my soul. It has fired up my zeal, and I feel like working for the Lord as I never did before."—Rev. J. M. Montgomery, of Alabama.

"We should hardly think it possible for any Christian to read this volume without partaking largely of that holy unction which breathes and burns on every page."—Rev. Richard Donkersley, of the Providence Conference.

Gеовсетоwn, Sept. 29—12 m.

The faith of the hitherto most sanguine among the unterrified in this direction, seems to be fast failing them. The general uprising of the peo-ple along the route from Washington to Ken-tucky, to do the old hero of an hundred battles honor-the kind, gentlemanly and unostentatious manner in which all were received and treated by him—his plain though appropriate and pointed off-hand, old Virginia talk, and the powerful effects which it is producing in every direction, together with the startling news of his daily-increasing popularity, seem to have struck terror and dismay into the very heart of their ranks; and, despairing of all hope of success by fair means, they now resort to the old game of brag! But in this they have been more than once sig-nally foiled. In more than one instance, (one of which happened yesterday,) after bantering Whigs to bet upon the general result, and after forfeits have been staked, they have wisely backed out and left the Whigs to pocket their forfeit, sooner than lose a larger sum.

A number of the Whigs of our town intend going to Rockville to-morrow to participate in the Whig Mass Meeting. Several of Mr. Vanlerwerken's fine omnibuses have been chartered for the occasion.

Unavoidable circumstances prevented the Rev. Mr. Stockton from preaching in the Methodist Protestant Church last night. He will without fail preach there this evening at 7½ o'clock.

While we are now writing, the Sons of Temperance, several hundred strong, clad in the regalia of their Order, with several beautiful banners floating in the breeze, are marching to the strains of sweet music up Bridge street. The very commanding appearance of the procession, and the number we recognised in the ranks who have been redeemed from the curse of intemperance, caused us voluntarily to exclaim as they passed us, God save and prosper the good cause.

The protracted meeting which has been going on at the Methodist Church for two weeks, continues to increase in interest. Every night quite number of penitents are at the altar, and many have professed religion.

A large number of workmen are now engaged at the Union Hotel, completing the repairs, for the occupancy of Mr. Fitzhugh, who has leased it for $1,200 per annum.

With the exception of a few cases of billious fever, and ague and fever our town, continues very

Mustang Liniment and the Ladies. In our opinion, nothing is above the comprehension of women; and with less prejudice, more liberality, and much seener perception than men, when a new idea is presented a new doctrine taught, or a new fact asserted, she grasps it t once, and, with the rapidity and clearness almost of intinet, decides upon its merits or truthfulness; and if her lecision be favorable, she enthusiastically advocates and supports it. Thus the common saying has obtained, "Once get the women on your side, and you are safe." And we are happy to state that we have the ladies all in favor of the Mustang Liniment. They have tried it for Caked Breasts, Sore Nipples, Sores, Chafes, and Burns on children, as well as for Croup and Mumps. Also, for Corns, Tooth-ache, Pains in the Limbs and Joints, Sore Eyes, Eruptions, Cuts, and Bruises; and they have always found it effectual. And they go about, like angels, as they are, proclaiming it to their friends, and to all they see or hear tell of who are suffering. We have daily calls for it by persons who say such and such adies recommended them to try it. Go on, ladies, in your "Good Samaritan" work, and thousands will bless you for
